Telstar Isolators

- Telstar has been supplying aseptic barrier Isolators for product and operator protection for over 25 years, resulting in a growing number of validated installations located all around the world. Telstar aseptic Isolators combined with third party equipment such as automated filling lines for liquids and powders, significantly reduce the risk presented by direct human intervention and are increasingly being prescribed by the pharma industry.
- From complete filling lines to stand alone aseptic processes, Telstar aseptic Isolators are designed to supply solutions adhering to regulatory standards and GMP guidelines.
- Implementing complex projects is achieved by close collaboration between Telstar's global centers of excellence in both the UK and Spain. Our meticulous attention to detail throughout each unique project carries significant benefits for our clients.
