

Hydraulic Fracturing

Like most things, natural gas exploration, drilling and production require massive fluid transportation. In some areas, elevation differences call for higher pressure pumps. Godwin Pumps has deployed several of its high pressure Dri-Prime pumps to deliver water from the frac tanks to the well site at frac sites all across the United States.